

Deborah Sanderson

My name is Deborah Sanderson. I started my teaching career in 1990 as an English teacher.

From 1990 to 1995 I taught at St Mary's, Rawmarsh.

I started teaching at Parson Cross, Sheffield in 1995. I became Deputy Head in 1997.

I am presently Head of School at Tinsley Meadows Primary School, Sheffield.

As well as being a Governor for Abbeyfield Primary Academy, I also sit on the Executive Leadership Board for the Five Rivers Trust.

I also work with Year 6 students at Abbeyfield, supporting with their Maths and Reading, particularly the run up to SATs exams.

I am also a co-ordinator for SSELP and I work as a consultant with Harmony.